

The Ways I Learn and Lead

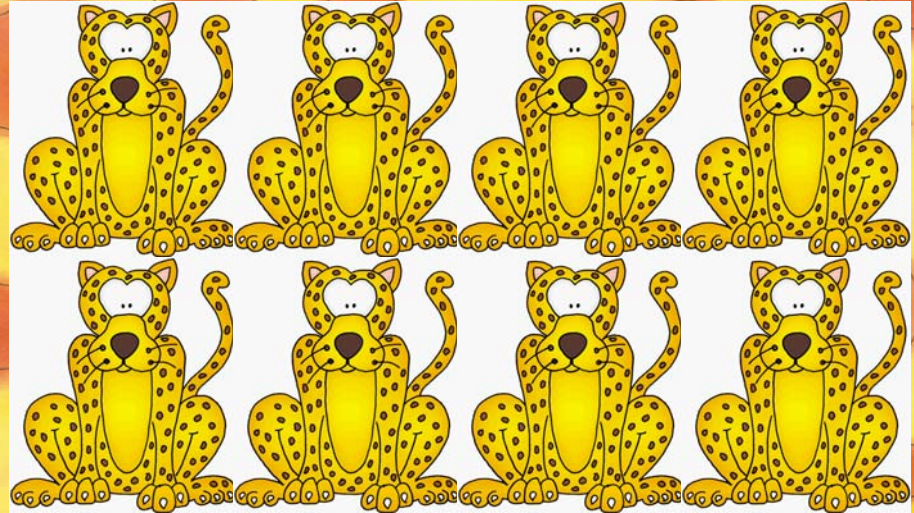

Everyday I come to school, I learn and I also lead.

Most days, I learn and lead in my classroom

with my teacher and friends.

Welcome to class boys and girls!

Some days, I get to learn and lead
in other rooms.

I learn about art, PE, and music.

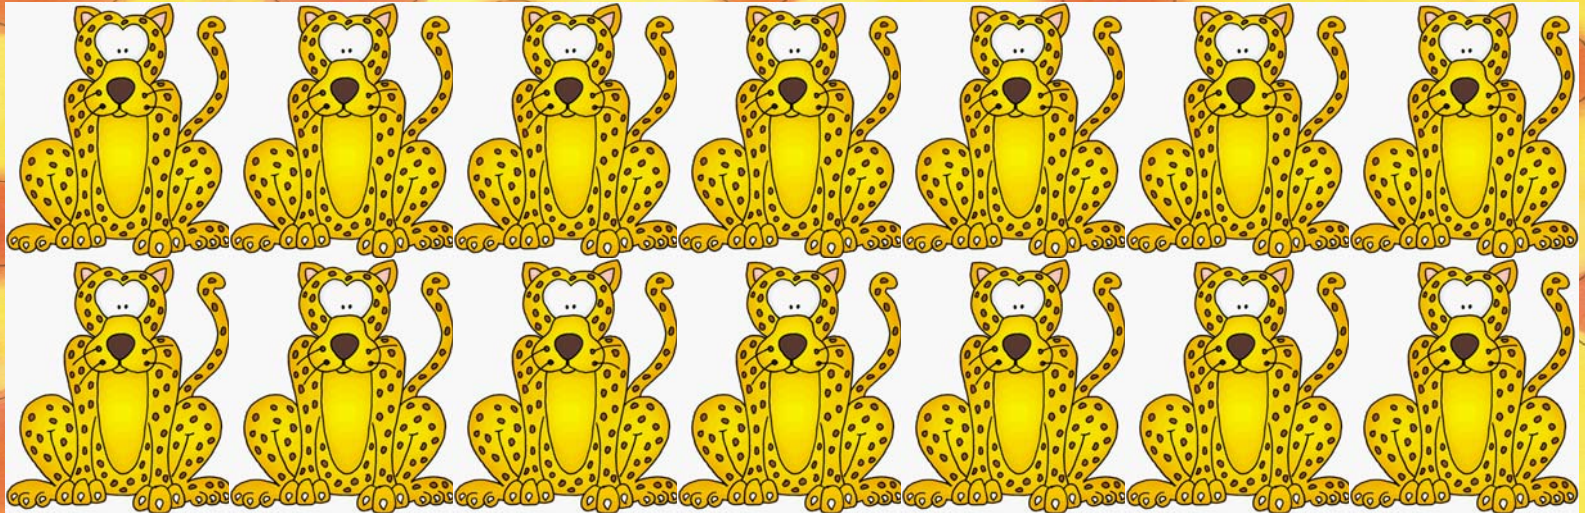

Other days, I get to learn and be a leader in the media center.

On special days, I get to learn and lead with the entire school.

This is called an assembly or Pride Circle.

At a Pride Circle, I learn about lots of different things. I am a learner and a leader at a Pride Circle.

I can only focus and learn when others are quiet. I will self monitor and keep my voice off when others are speaking.

Shh! I can't hear the speaker.

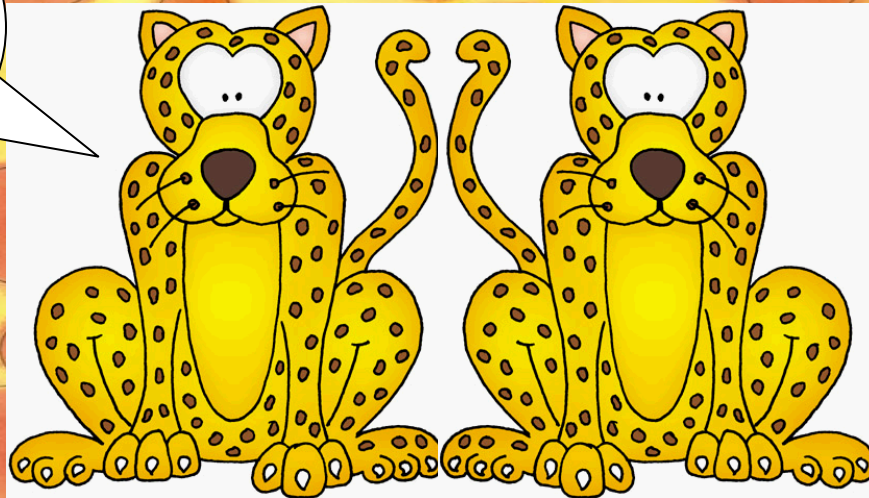

Hey, what are you going to do after school?

If I get distracted I will do my best to self-monitor.

I will keep my hands and feet to myself.

Please keep your body to yourself!

I will sit on my bottom so that others can see behind me.

When I am learning in a Pride Circle, I will keep my eyes on the speaker. I do not want to miss anything they may say or do.

I will offer respect to the speaker. I do this by looking and listening to the speaker.

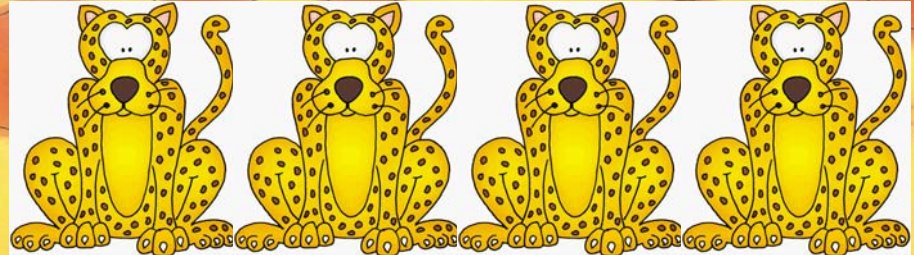

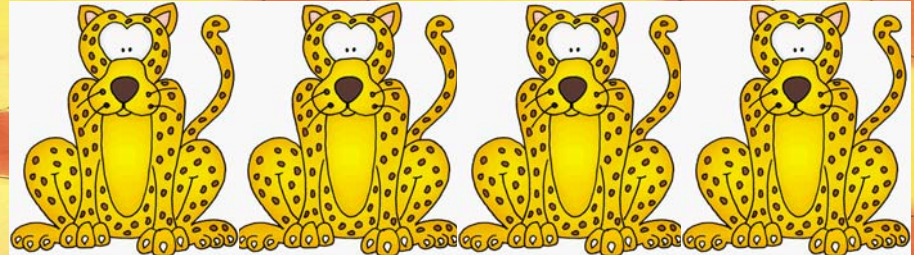

I show thanks to the speaker by clapping my hands at the end of the presentation. I want to show them I am a kind and responsible audience member.

I am so lucky that I get to learn and lead in so many ways at Longacre School.

Wow, isn't learning fun?

At a Pride Circle:

I will do my best to self monitor.

I will keep my body to myself.

I will listen to the speaker.

I will be a leader of myself.
