As you know, the involvement of parents and community members is critical to the success of any school system. I firmly believe that our schools will continue to be successful as more parents and community members take an active role in the system. However, members of even close-knit communities like ours often have radically different views on educational topics.

As with any system, there may be times when you have a concern. When this occurs, my recommendation is to follow the Channels of Communication that is attached. Our goal is to address your questions and/or concerns as quickly and as accurately as possible. This will also help reduce rumors, increase accountability, and maximize our time to focus on student learning.

When contacting teachers or school principals, please call the school and schedule a meeting either in person or on the telephone.

My hope is to recruit as many parents and community members as possible to become advocates for Farmington Public Schools and public education. Your continued support and active involvement will allow us to continue to provide exemplary programs and services for our students and families.

Sincerely,

Dr. Robert Herrera
Superintendent
Farmington Public Schools
